“Counselor Qualifications:

PREPARE/ENRICH Inventories are intended for use by professionals who are working with couples. Professionals must have an advanced degree in a recognized area of mental health (marriage and family therapy, psychology, social work, pastoral counseling, etc.).

A counselor is assigned a permanent I.D. Number to be used each time an Inventory is scored. This number should be used only by the counselor to whom it is assigned.

Lay Couples:

Lay couples can also provide a valuable resource to help premarital couples prepare for marriage. Lay couples can be trained to use the PREPARE/ENRICH Program with couples, but they must be supervised by a professional counselor or clergy trained in the Program. Lay couples do not receive I.D. numbers.”
